Celebration brings food, entertainment

AMY ZURAWSKI

Did a few businessmen with hot and creative wares to sell plus a variety of musical entertainment and much of good weather and a celebration is sure to result. Celebration: A Festival of the Arts was listed by officials, vendors and patrons as a great success.

Sain, Celebration's public relations coordinator, said the weekend's activities went better this year than last.

Just by taking a look around, it's easy to see that things are going better this year," Sain said late Friday. "We couldn't have asked for better weather and the attendance has been really great."

Sain said the scheduling of the Residence Hall Association's Little People's Weekend at the same time as Celebration created a greater demand for better attendance for children's activities.

For example, Sain said the 2 p.m. Saturday Children's Theatre of "If You're A Dreamer, Come On In" was sold out.

Sain added he hopes Little People's Weekend can be scheduled at the same time as Celebration again.

Although official attendance numbers won't be available for several days, senior Richard Fitzgerald, a member of a surveying team from sociology 3700 which was given the responsibility of counting patrons, said attendance appears to be up over previous year's numbers.

"Yesterday (Saturday) we had more than 12,000 people counted," Fitzgerald said.

Fitzgerald said the 30 members of the class, taught by sociology instructor Ron Wohlstein, were required to man all Celebration entrance areas and count the number of people passing through. In addition, the group surveyed individuals for the half hour four times Saturday and Nine hours may seem like a long time to spend in one place, but 25 Eastern students were required to spend the same amount of time at Celebration this weekend.

In exchange for one hour of credit, a group of students who spent eight weeks in a festival planning class earned their practical experience this weekend working as ushers, setting up chairs, helping children with art projects or selling Celebration paraphernalia.

Ruth Jaenike, who instructed the class offered by the Office of Continuing Education, said students have been learning what goes into the planning of a festival and will have an opportunity to learn the running of one this weekend during Celebration.

To complete the course, which met one night a week for an hour, Jaenike said, each student was required to put in nine hours of time at Celebration working at several different jobs.

As a final project students must turn in a written report of their experiences and their suggestions for improving the festival next year.

"Most all the planning was done by the time the class started. The (See CLASS, page 8)

Sunday on their reasons for attending Celebration.

"Getting a chance to take the surveys is really good hands-on experience," Fitzgerald said. "It gives us a chance to really learn about doing field work."

Sales for the weekend also appear to be up this year.

Senior Art Wagner, of the Society for Creative Anachronisms, said his group's sale of barbecued turkey drumsticks was up this year.

"The sale is really going well this year," he said. "A lot of people really seem to enjoy the novelty of the turkey legs."

Wagner estimated that more than 600 turkey legs at a cost of $1.75 had been sold as of late Sunday afternoon.

New asphalt parking lot will be constructed next fall

JEFF BRITT
Senior reporter

An asphalt parking lot for staff and students with the capacity to hold 300 cars will be constructed next fall on Fourth Street, said David Kidwell, acting director of information and publications.

"There was a campus-wide parking committee that determined this was the most logical location," Kidwell said.

The site was "based upon the fact that there is already an existing lot at Lot W, behind the Lincoln/Stevenson/Douglas complex) there, there's a high demand for parking spaces in that area and it's fairly accessible for traffic to get in and out of," he said.

The fee schedule, approved by the President's Council and effective in the fall semester, is:

•Faculty, staff and student permits for asphalt lots are $12.50 per semester.

•Student permits for rock lots are $5 per semester.

The lot will be "financed through user fees," Kidwell said.

"The institution of a user fee makes charges for parking equitable for all who have space in a given lot," said Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, in a press release. "It should also prove a reasonable base for keeping lots in good shape and well-marked."

The cost and builder of the lot have not been determined. "We don't know because they'll let bids determine what company will be constructing it," Kidwell said.

The new parking lot designations will be:

•Administrative parking—In Lot A, which is in front of Old Main, six spaces are reserved for the President's Council, two for a 15-minute zone and one each for handicapped and university vehicle parking.

•Faculty and staff lots—Such areas will be the east half of Lot B, which is East of Blair Hall; Lot U, which is north of the clinical services building; and the three north lanes of Lot R, north of Taylor Hall.

Other places designated for faculty and staff parking are Lot D, southeast of Buzzard Building; Lot G, west of McAfee gymnasium; Lot K, west of Douglas Hall; Lot X, east of the Physical Plant; and Lot T, south of the Applied Sciences Building.

•University visitor lot—This area is designated as the west half of Lot B, which will be metered and is East of Blair Hall.

•Student lots—Lot E, which is south of the LSD complex; and part of Lot D, East of Buzzard Building, will serve as commuter lots.

Other student parking will be the south lane of Lot R, which is east of Coleman Hall; Lot F, which is north of the LSD complex; Lot M, which is east of Andrews Hall; two south lanes of Lot T, which is south of the Applied Sciences Building; and Lot Y, which is north and south of Carman Hall.

Also for student parking will be Lot H, which is north of Pemberton Hall; Lot S, which is east of Andrews Hall; Lot W, which is to the far west of Lawson; Lot L, which is to the immediate west of Lawson; Lot J, which is north of Lantz Gymnasium; and Lot L, which is to the near west of Lawson, are all residence hall lots.

•Other student lots will be Lot J, which is north of Lantz, and Lot N, which is east of Ninth Street hall.

•The lot at Tarble Arts Center will be designated as a staff and visitor parking.

Julia Abell, a statistician in the planning and budget analysis office, served on the parking lot committee. "It (the chosen site) had to be close to Coleman Hall, (because) they are going to add the new school of business down there," Abell said.

"When they do, they are going to lose parking (space) during the time of construction and they have to have temporary parking," she added.

Campus Police Chief Thomas Larson, who served on the parking committee, said, "That was one of the couple of areas they said we could put (a parking lot)" and noted "you don't have to hurt any trees."

It also avoids obstruction of athletic facilities. "That's going to be the closest we can without touching any athletic fields that are there," Larson said.

New drug to block pain from cuts

NEW YORK—Animal studies suggest a new kind of drug may block pain from cuts and burns without producing numbness, and scientists say it may also provide alternate means of relief for arthritis and backaches.

Unlike standard painkillers, the new family of drugs prevents a natural substance called bradykinin from triggering pain-sending nerves next to the injury, said Dr. Solomon Snyder, director of the neuroscience department at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in Baltimore.

The research is the first to show that "bradykinin antagonists" can relieve pain, Snyder said. He said the drugs may one day lead to relief for arthritis, back pain and headaches.

Snyder reports the studies this week in the European Journal of Pharmacology, along with Larry Steranka and others of Nova Pharmaceutical Corp. in Baltimore and Raymond Vavrek and John Stewart of the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Memorial for Chernobyl victims

CHICAGO—Joining hands at the place where scientists first produced an atomic chain reaction, anti-nuclear groups held a memorial service Sunday for victims of last year's Chernobyl disaster.

"Experts say as many as 500,000 may die as a result of Chernobyl contamination, and remember, it could happen here," Harvey Wasserman, a journalist and author, said on the first anniversary of the nuclear accident in the Soviet Ukraine.

The Soviets admit to only 31 deaths from the accident, Wasserman said, but he warned, "This is only the small tip of the iceberg."

Sunday's memorial service was held at the Henry Moore sculpture "Nuclear Energy," which marks the spot where Enrico Fermi, an Italian physicist, and his co-workers at the University of succeeded on Dec. 2, 1942, in producing the first controlled chain reaction.

Congressional legislation calls for reprisals against unfair trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Dan Rostenkowski said Sunday congressional legislation calling for mandatory U.S. reprisals against nations using unfair trading practices is misguided and "destined for a veto" by President Reagan.

But Rostenkowski, an Illinois Democrat and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he would not be surprised if the so-called Gephardt amendment passes the House this week, and he blamed the Japanese for that.

With Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone coming to Washington for talks with Reagan, and the House poised to commence debate Tuesday on trade legislation. Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., called practices by America's trading partners.

At the same time, Nobuo Matsunaga, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, acknowledged on ABC-TV's "This Week with David Brinkley" that "we are quite aware that we cannot continue this abnormal situation with a huge trade imbalance."

And Hidetoshi Ukaawa, Japanese consul general in New York, appearing on NBC's "Meet the Press," said, "I think there are a number of policies that we have committed ourselves to . . . to play a more constructive role in the world and global economy."

Nakasone, during his meeting with Reagan on Wednesday, will likely try to get the president to rescind the $300 million in tariffs the administration imposed on Japanese electronic products earlier this month.

Drummer Brad Elvis of The Elvis Brothers perform as the main attraction Friday in the Library Quad. Despite several mechanical failures, the band entertained the crowd of about 600 people.

Elvis Brothers play for over 600 people

By MARY BETH MURPHY
Staff writer

People who chose to go, or stay, home for the weekend, may have missed one of Eastern's rare musical concerts in the form of The Elvis Brothers.

A crowd of about 600 Eastern students and area residents listened to the music of The Elvis Brothers, on the sunny Friday afternoon, helping mark the beginning of Celebration.

The Elvis Brothers title is not just a stage name, said Graham Elvis, self-proclaimed leader of the group.

Elvis said guitarist Rob Elvis and drummer Brad Elvis have been together since birth and noted that Elvis is their real family name.

During the concert, Graham played guitar, sang and told jokes.

Rob also played guitar and sang. And the drummer, Brad, kept the audience entertained by climbing his drums and balancing his drum sticks in the palm of his hand and on the tip of his finger.

Graham said this was the band's first visit to Eastern and said they enjoy playing at universities. The Elvis Brothers perform at about 10 to 15 universities a year all over North America, Graham said.

The Elvis Brothers are based out of Champaign, but travel all over the continent to perform.

Graham said the band plays nearly all of its own music, as was evident when they began Friday afternoon by playing "Somebody Call the Police," and "I Wonder Why?" from the LP "Adventure Time." The band also played several instrumental songs.

One member of the audience, sophomore Kathy Monke, said she had seen The Elvis Brothers previously in the band's hometown, Champaign. She also said she thought the band was exciting to watch.

Rob said the band plans to add a second guitar player to the group and Graham added that they plan to have one the next time the band performs.

In the past, The Elvis Brothers have opened for such music groups as The Clash, Big Country, The Romantics, Cheap Trick and Billy Idol. The Elvis Brothers' debut album, "Movin' Up" was given 3½ stars in a Rolling Stone album review.

Gathering honors life of Doudna

By KIM MIKUS
Staff writer

Sunshine beamed through the church windows Friday as friends and family celebrated the life of Former Eastern President Quincy Doudna.

Dr. Doudna, 80, died at 10:34 a.m. Tuesday in Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center.

About 150 people attended the services held at 2 p.m. at Wesley United Methodist Church. The Rev. Terry Clark delivered the eulogy.

Quincy Doudna was a person of many gifts and graces. The public recognized him at Eastern Illinois University and in the Charleston community.

—The Rev. Terry Clark
Wesley United Methodist Church

In remembering Dr. Doudna, Clark said, "Quincy Doudna was a person of many gifts and graces. The public recognized him at Eastern Illinois University and in the Charleston community." He also described Dr. Doudna as a man filled with "boundless energy," and that this energy is the "genesis for his determination."

"Dr. Doudna was a man of faith, and God was the source of his life," said Clark. He added that Dr. Doudna was "most influenced by the life of his parents."

Clark said Dr. Doudna's last request was that Psalm 1 be read because he said, "I remember my father reading this many times."

Dr. Doudna also requested the 13th chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians be read at the funeral, because his parents read this at each of their wedding anniversaries.

This is the "love chapter" and includes that love is patient, kind and eternal. The letter ends with, "Meanwhile these three remain: faith, hope and love, and the greatest of these is love," Clark said.

After these requests were read, Clark said, "It is not often when a pastor is given a text to preach at a funeral." He added he can "appreciate what he (Dr. Doudna) has done."

Clark said, "Sometimes students elevate their teachers who open doors to truth. Quincy was always a teacher at heart, always wanting to discover and tell people about possibilities."

Classical organ music played by Mrs. David Swickard began the service and soloist Mrs. Alan Aulabaugh sang Schubert's "Ave Maria". Aulabaugh ended the services by singing "Blessed Jesus."

The burial followed at Roselawn Cemetery in Charleston.

Honorary pallbearers were Lawrence Ringenberg, Paul Seitsinger, Ewell Fowler, Lavern Hamand, William Paris and Walter Klehm.

Pallbearers included Martin Schaefer, William Zeigel, Glen Lefler, Daniel Thornburgh, Kenneth Hesler and Glenn Williams.

Public memorial services will be held at 1:30 p.m., May 3 at Dvorak Concert Hall in the Doudna Fine Arts Center. The services will be open to all members of the community.

Code changes may create stricter rules

By JEFF BRITT
Senior reporter

If revisions to Eastern's Student Conduct Code are approved, a stricter policy against drugs, specifically marijuana, and new smoking regulations will be imposed.

The recommended revisions in the Student Conduct Code include adding marijuana to the list of controlled substances and deleting the old smoking policy, which will be replaced by the President's Council's recently passed smoking policy.

Keith Kohanzo, university judicial hearing officer, said marijuana is not legally a controlled substance, but its possession is against the law, so it had to be added to the list of prohibited drugs.

"There is one rule that prohibits the use, possession and distribution of controlled substances. Cannabis isn't a controlled substance," Kohanzo said. "My role is to present my proposed changes to the vice president for student affairs (Glenn Williams)," Kohanzo said. If approved by Williams, the proposals will be passed on to other administration personnel for approval.

Another recommended revision is the deletion of the code's smoking policy, as it has been exceeded in authority by a smoking policy passed by the President's Council.

In another proposed Student Conduct Code change regarding violation of state, federal or municipal law, Kohanzo wants to make it clear that students are subject to more laws than are listed in the code, as the Student Conduct Code cannot list every law.

"One cannot think of every aspect of conduct on campus," he said. "We cannot write every state law in our student conduct code."

The proposal states that "Students who engage in prohibited conduct as defined by statute or local ordinance or who violates any state, federal . . . etc."

"Before, it didn't say that," Kohanzo said.

He said two judicial boards are required by the current regulation, but a proposed change would require only one board when only one board is necessary.

The proposal states, "One or more judicial boards are established for the purpose of hearing alleged violations in or adjacent to university residence halls. They shall be formed from a pool of qualified students selected in proportionate numbers from the various residence halls."

"Right now, it states that there will be two judicial boards," Kohanzo said. "At the outset, there were four and we reduced it to two."

Although the boards would be reduced from two to one in certain circumstances, Kohanzo said the number of students serving as board members would remain the same.

Another proposed change to the Student Conduct Code would change the wording "judicial proceedings" to "hearing proceedings."

"Judicial, to me, sounds very adversarial and legislative. A hearing is more informal," Kohanzo said. "Provided the student is given due process, everyone is allowed to say their side."

Referring to the term judicial, he said "it (judicial) implies trials, robes and candles."

Kohanzo also wants to prevent students who have been charged with cheating from dropping a course.

"In instance where suspension or expulsion is a possibility for disciplinary infractions, the conferral of the degree is withheld until the disciplinary action has been resolved," the proposal states.

"If you are accused of cheating in a class and the teacher refers that to the university disciplinary system," Kohanzo said, "the student may be able to avoid being accountable by dropping the course."

He said he wants students caught cheating to be held accountable. Seniors who are about to graduate, but have pending charges might drop a class to "escape the consequences or appropriate inquiry of their conduct."

Kohanzo added, "It's only for serious offenses."

Spending cuts make college for the wealthy

President Reagan's student aid slashing plans could more than triple the debts of many college graduates and leave others more than $60,000 in the red, a recent congressional report reveals.

The Department of Education seeks the elimination of $592 million from college work-study programs, student loan subsidies and to make 1 million fewer students eligible for federal grants.

The congressional study also concludes that the income-based loan program will increase the debt of graduates entering a "low-income profession." These sorts of reductions make education elitist or at least insists the means of a college education depends on the end of becoming wealthy.

Reagan is quickly closing the door on students looking for careers where money making isn't the first calling, such as teaching, the social sciences and agriculture.

Reagan's shift from grants to loans aren't aimed at rich families. Actually quite the opposite was discovered by Sen. Lawton Chiles, a Florida Democrat and chairman of the finance committee and its education sub-committee.

His study determines a family of six with a $10,000 annual income would lose somewhere in the neighborhood of $24,000 in grants, work study and low-interest borrowing. The financial burden two college siblings, with divorced parents making $27,600 annually, would undertake would leap from $5,635 to $20,700 each upon graduation.

These can't easily be described as wealthy families. Low and middle-income families aspiring to send their children to college lose that hope with drastic cuts such as those Reagan demands.

True, the federal government is grappling with an enormous deficit and higher education must bear some of that load. But, these cuts seem unfair and not based on the family's ability to pay for college.

In effect, the Reagan budget gives the impression that a college education belongs to heirs of wealth who enter college aspiring only to make more money.

Letter policy

The Daily Eastern News welcomes letters to the editor from any reader addressing issues relating to the campus community

With the 1988 presidential election rapidly approaching, or already begun for those already announced unfortunates, there is only one thing I am certain of.

No one in his (or her) right mind would want to run for president this time around.

The fact of the matter is, the next presidential term appears doomed before it even begins. Whoever is elected president in 1988 will inherit the most complex problems of any president in the history of the United States.

Aside from the enormous budget and trade deficits which will inevitably have major repercussions within the next five years in the form of recession/depression, America's problems—social, environmental and political—are mounting every day.

The sad fact is, Ronald Reagan will never have the opportunity to pay for the inept negligence of his two terms by losing a presidential election. In fact, he will probably be the big winner as a lame duck president, because Americans have a way of taking lame ducks under their arms with forgiveness.

Let's put the 1988 race in perspective.

For the first time since the 1968 presidential race between Democrat Hubert Humphrey and eventual winner, Republican Richard Nixon, an incumbent is not seeking reelection—whether it be to Reagan's dismay or possibly an answered prayer.

So, if nothing else, 1988 will be the most interesting race in two decades as the Republicans and Democrats both find themselves with no clear-cut candidate at this point.

Eventually, though, two fresh faces, or possibly more, will emerge, one of whom will take the reigns of this seemingly runaway horse known as America.

Remember 1976 when a little-known former governor of Georgia named Jimmy Carter won the presidential race over pseudo-incumbant Gerald Ford? For those who don't remember, Ford was never elected president. He was more like the scum left in the bathtub after the dirty water of the Nixon administration had drained.

John

Carter inherited what many considered the most shambled office in history in the wake of turmoil over Watergate and the Vietnam War.

Not only was Carter faced with an hostile environment at home where Americans had a dimmed view of the presidency, but around the world as well, where many Third World nations heightened their claims of "American imperialism."

Now we find ourselves in a similar situation 11 years later in the midst of the yet-to-be-finished tale of the Iran/Contra connection. Pardon the cliché, but, the more things change, the more they stay the same.

So, we have 1988 to look forward to. But what is there to look forward to?

The Republicans and Democrats are probably asking themselves which party would be better off in which capacity; in office or out of office.

Meanwhile, the American people are asking themselves which party would best serve our country's interests for the four years following the Reagan regime.

One thing we must remember is that no president is ever going to be so great a leader as to have answers to all the problems. A democracy requires all the minds working together to find these solutions.

The underlying factor here is that we as voting citizens must be more responsible in assuring that our nation's leaders are capable of working within the best interests of not just our country, but of the world and the human race in general.

We're not just in it for ourselves. There's a whole world to take care of.

—John Stroud is a staff writer for The Daily Eastern News.

Your turn

EIU court justice 'thanks' Madigan

Editor:

I applaud our student body president's letter on misuses of reserve account funds. Let's talk First Amendment and let's talk about the reserve fund further.

As for the First Amendment, I am sure that there are just as many cases found against newspapers; however I, will not spend days citing these cases as Mr. McDermott did. Secondly, Michael Madigan and the rest of the student body do have the freedom of speech. Your presentation of "freedom only to us journalists" offers tunnel vision and a lack of concern for us, the students.

Secondly, the reserve account. Press machines, typesetting machines, in general, equipment over $30,000 in cost is my view of this reserve account's function. As Madigan again cited, this fund of student's money was and is being used as a petty cash fund.

Eastern students enjoy a newspaper everyday. I would say they would enjoy more control over the expenses the newspaper incurs. Thank you Mr. Madigan and thank you AB for looking out for the students.

EISCCAP asks, 'is SDI a real solution?'

Editor:

We, the members of EISCCAP, would like to respond to the comments made by John Preston in the April 21 edition of The Daily Eastern News.

Preston asked whether or not EISCCAP has a "viable" alternative to SDI. This question would seem to imply that SDI is a viable solution to the arms race. The majority of the scientific community (including several Nobel laureates) has stated time and time again that SDI is a preposterous proposal. Very simply, there is no technological solution to the arms race. The answer lies in a mutually verifiable (not unilateral) freeze.

Another point that Mr. Preston seems to imply in his letter is that EISCCAP backs Soviet policy and aggression. We recognize that the Soviets are guilty of atrocities and violations of human rights. However, it should also be recognized that the United States does not exactly wear the white hat in terms of foreign policy. We are not anti-American; we are pro-peace. Patriotism does not mean blindly following your leaders, but recognizing and correcting the mistakes that have been made.

The human race has entered a part of history in which a super-power conflict addressed in military terms would lead to the utter destruction of mankind. It is time for our way of thinking to catch up with the volatile circumstances that have developed. Our knowledge has reached a point where we can either destroy or save ourselves. Which route will we take?

Jerri Franklin, a St. Louis resident exhibiting her paintings, said Celebration is her favorite show of the year.

"It's just a great little festival," she said. "I really enjoy the college kids, the food, the music and being outdoors."

Eastern art instructor Bill Heyduck, who is also in charge of the craft booth displays for Celebration, said he exhibits his pottery as an incentive for students to do the same.

Overall, young and old alike all had good things to say about the weekend's activities.

Mattoon resident Amy Taylor, 12, said she enjoys watching the different types of people most. "This is the best Celebration I've been to because of the nice weather and the different things on display."

Charleson resident Kenneth Hudson, 70, said he attends Celebration every year "to listen to the music and look at the pretty girls."

Hudson also believes this year's Celebration was the best in several years.

The food booths may be closed and music may have ended, but Celebration isn't over yet.

Sain said Celebration's Central Planning Committee will meet sometime before the end of the semester to discuss the event and the work that went into it to better next year's activities.

Eastern instructor set to give design lecture

By ELIZABETH CURVEY
Staff writer

An instructor at Eastern will give a lecture focusing on job placement for graphic design students and other related topics Monday evening.

Graphic designer Chuck Nivens will present a lecture entitled "Business Practices for the Graphic Designer" from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday in the Fine Arts Building.

The lecture, which is sponsored by Eastern's department of art, will take place in room 305 of the Fine Arts Building.

Although the presentation will be geared toward graduating graphic design students, Nivens encouraged everyone to attend.

The presentation will consist of information and advice on several topics. Some of these topics include internal communications and tracking a job through the design office. He will also discuss the determination of a fee schedule and how to establish break-even points.

Specific attention will be aimed toward recent graphic design graduates concerning expectations with salaries, job assignments and the job search process.

students got a chance to learn what work needs to get done and will get a chance to do some of it," she said.

Although Jaenike would not disclose if completing the nine hours of time would earn students an "A," she said the course will allow them to return to their hometowns and create and organize festivals of their own.

Celebration: A Festival of the Arts 1987 began Friday at 11 a.m. with the opening of food booths on the quad and closed Sunday after the Theatre Arts Department's comedy production of The Skin of Our Teeth.

Class member Peggy Berger, a senior marketing major, said she enjoyed the class because of the opportunities it presented to learn about the creation of a festival.

"It was really a great experience," she said, adding that Celebration provides the opportunity for the class members to see what they have learned.

Senior Patrick Clayberg, a theatre arts major also enrolled in the class, said, "I've been to so many Celebrations and never really knew how they worked. This class gave us an opportunity to learn the behind the scenes things."

J. Sain, Celebration's public relations coordinator, said class members were exposed to a variety of people who were instrumental in the planning of Celebration, which allowed them to gain first-hand knowledge.

"The class gave Eastern students a valuable educational experience," he said. "For them (class members) there is a lot more involved in the class than one hour of credit."

Panther netters capture 4th in AMCU-8 tourney

By DINO TIBERI
Staff writer

It was a very profitable weekend for Eastern's men's tennis team, as they placed third in the AMCU-8 tournament at Southwest Missouri in Springfield, Mo.

Eastern finished a notch higher than expected, as Coach John Bennett said he would be very disappointed if the team didn't finish fourth or higher.

Southwest Missouri finished first with a total of 70 points. The Bears won their fourth consecutive tennis title setting an AMCU-8 record as the first team ever to win any title four years in a row.

The tournament was dominated by Southwest Missouri, as they won five of six singles championships and all three doubles titles. The Bears took second in the only singles bracket they didn't win.

The next three spots were highly contested, as Northern Iowa took second with 47 points, Eastern had 42, and Western Illinois finished with 39 points to place fourth.

Valparaiso was fifth with 30 points, while Wisconsin-Green Bay finished in sixth with 14 points.

Seventh place went to Illinois-Chicago with 13 points, and Cleveland State was at the back of the pack with only six points.

Eastern's finish was their best in three years, as they have finished fourth in each of the last two seasons.

In first singles, Eric Laffey finished fourth, winning his first match, but then losing his next two. Stan Freeman, competing in No. 2 singles, came in fifth place, losing his first match, winning the second, and losing his last match.

John Suter took second in his No. 3 singles bracket, losing in the finals after winning his first two matches.

Jeff Brumleve, competing at No. 4 singles after a long layoff, ended up in third place. He won the first match, lost the second and won the third.

Jon Anderson was moved down to No. 5 singles position with the insertion of Brumleve into the lineup, and he responded by taking second place.

Rounding out the singles play for the Panthers was Keith Hansel, who finished fourth in No. 6 singles. Hansel won his first match, but then had a rough final two matches, dropping them both.

In doubles play, Laffey-Suter finished in third place in No. 1 doubles. Freeman-Anderson also took third in No. 2 doubles, while Brumleve-John Rebello finished fourth at No. 3.

"In our doubles matches, we had some bad draws, we had to play against Southwest's teams in the semifinals, while Northern Iowa was able to put a few of their players in the finals," Suter said.

The Panthers will host Vincennes Tuesday, at 3 p.m. on the Weller Courts.

Strickland, Lynch pace tracksters to 2 records

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

Eastern's women's track team took on some of the best competition in the nation this weekend and came away with two school records for their efforts.

At the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa, the Panthers placed all three of their participating athletes.

Senior shot putter Valeta Strickland took fourth place with a school record toss of 49-5, beating her previous school record of 48-9 set last season.

The (Chicago) South Shore High School product now holds the indoor and outdoor Eastern shot put records.

"We made a good account of ourselves," said eighth-year Panther head coach John Craft. "The trip was well worth it."

Another Lady Panther thrower, sophomore Kristi Baum, also faired well with a fourth-place finish in the javelin (143-8) and a personal best throw of 136-9 in the discus.

Baum failed to qualify for the finals in the discus throw however.

Lauren Lynch, the third Lady Panther competitor at Drake finished seventh in the 800-meter run in the time of 2:07.32, placing seventh overall.

Lynch's time broke the school record of teammate Janine Jarris (2:10.7), which was set last season.

"The performances of Strickland and Lynch were especially outstanding," said Craft, since a throw of 56-0 won the shot put at Drake and 2:03 was the winning time in the 800-meter run.

"(Strickland and Lynch's) performances were excellent since they set school records with them," Craft said.

At the non-scoring Ball State Relays, in Muncie, Ind., the remaining tracksters faced Big 10 powers Ohio State, Purdue and Indiana along with the host school and Illinois State.

In the Ball State shot put, senior Debbie Zubick placed second with a personal best toss of 45-7¼.

Sophomore jumper Tina Dawson took third in the long jump with a leap of 17-11¼ and the 1,600-meter relay team of junior Tracy Olawumi, freshmen Pam Kinkelaar and Lisa Albro and sophomore Lorry Plutz took second in the time of 3:55.6.

The next competition for the Lady Panthers will be Friday and Saturday at the Becky Boone Relays in Richmond, Ky.

Softballers win Northern Illinois tournament

Eastern junior Zam Mogill tosses no-hitter, strikes out 13

By MIKE FITZGERALD
Staff writer

All of the pieces fell into place this weekend as Eastern's softball team won the first annual Northern Illinois Tournament.

The Panthers won the tournament by a run differential rule because Eastern, Ball State and Northern Illinois all finished with 3-1 records.

Eastern raised its record to 20-15-1 with the tournament victories, which included a no-hit performance by Zam Mogill.

Mogill tossed the no-hitter, and struck out 13 in the second game of the tournament on Friday against Wisconsin-Green Bay.

Eastern scored two runs in the second inning with the the big hit by rightfielder Cindy Streid, who singled home catcher Lisa Bourazak and shortstop Mary Jo McCarthy.

The Panthers picked up a run in the fourth and added another in the sixth, but by then Mogill was well on her way to her 15th victory of the season and second of the tournament.

Mogill picked up her first win as Eastern defeated St. Louis University 3-1 in the tournament opener.

Eastern picked up a run in the third inning when Lynn Ramsay singled home Sara Karcher. In the sixth inning, Streid drove home two more runs with a single, giving Mogill all she would need to nail down the victory.

However, the Panthers had their six-game winning streak snapped by Ball State. The Cardinals won 1-0, while only allowing one Eastern hit.

Streid, who had three hits and four RBI's in the tournament, blamed the loss on execution problems on offense.

"We have to be smarter on execution because we won't overpower teams," Streid said.

Eastern solved those problems against Northern Illinois as the Panthers defeated the Huskies 3-0 with Karcher picking up the victory.

"We scored runs because we were making things happen against Northern," Karcher said.

Streid added that the Panthers pitching and defense were particularly strong against the Huskies.

The tournament win certainly boosts the Panthers spirit, and possibly their chances of making the National Intercollegiate Championship Tournament.

"The winning streak has lifted our confidence, and it shows we can come through if we're behind," Streid said.

"The Northern Illinois Tournament was a boost for us," Karcher said. "The tournament win combined with Wichita's sweep of (Gateway leader) Illinois State opens a door for us," Streid added.

Eastern has won nine out of its last 10 ball games, but Streid doesn't feel the Panthers have peaked yet.

"We're real close to our peak," Streid said. "We are starting to make it fun again. We are going to the ballpark and enjoying it."

Eastern returns to action Tuesday at Muncie, Ind., against Ball State.

Fifth-year senior quarterback Pat Carroll (11) looks for an open reciever during Friday's intrasquad scrimmage at Charleston High School's Trojan Hill. Carroll led all Eastern quarterbacks with nine completions in 10 at-tempts for 164 yards passing and a 39-yard touchdown toss to senior tight end Derick Wilhelms. Carroll also carried the ball twice for 41 yards.

slowed him down then the guy in back of him stepped on him and spiked him," Akers said.

"That (the spiking) tripped him up and he stumbled but he finished strong," Akers said.

The qualification adds to an ex-cel-lent year compiled by Maton,who became an All-American after finishing second in the NCAA Indoor Nationals in the 1,000-meter run.

The Shelbyville native was also named the AMCU-8 Indoor Athlete of the Year by winning the mile and 1,000-yard runs along with running the anchor leg on the conference champion two-mile relay team.

"It really takes the pressure off him," Akers said. "Now he can con-centrate on his training schedule." Eastern head coach Neil Moore agreed, saying, "Jim has the monkey off his back now."

The Panthers also came away with another school record at Drake by recording a 3:20.62 time in the sprint medley.

The previous sprint medley relay record of 3:23.67 was set in 1985 by Greg Anderson and Claude Magee (200-meter leg), Don Johnson (400-meter leg) and Maton (800-meter leg).

Darnell Thompson and Ian Isaacs ran the 200-meter legs, followed by Scot Adamson's 400-meter leg and an 800-meter leg by Maton.

In other Drake action, senior Scot Adamson finished fifth in his qualifying heat of the 400-meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 55.51, but did not qualify for the finals.

In the 1,600-meter relay, Thomp-son, Adamson, Maton and Isaacs finished third in their heat with a 3:16.24 clocking, but also failed to qualify for the finals.

In Saturday's Parkland Invitational at Champaign, the Panthers captured three first place, six second and eight third place awards in a warm-up meet for the AMCU-8 Outdoor Conference Championships at Western Illinois beginning Friday.

Jay Flatt won the hammer throw with a toss of 171-3, while Dan Matas took the shot put with a throw of 55-11 and Derrick Lee placed first in the long jump 23-4½.

Moore described Parkland as a "leftover meet" for those who did not travel to Drake.

"It has a depressing effect on these guys, because they didn't get to go to the big meet," Moore said.

"It's like you don't get to go to the prom, so you go to the drive-in movie instead," Moore said.

Sluggers gain berth in playoffs

By MIKE LYNCH
Staff writer

Eastern's baseball team used a four-game sweep of Northern Iowa this weekend to lock up a berth in the AMCU-8 postseason playoffs.

The Panthers, 24-17-1, moved to 9-3 in the AMCU-8's Gray Division in making a return to the playoffs after a one-year layoff.

"This has to be nice," said Eastern head coach Tom McDevitt. "It seems like every year we have to play about 40 games before we start putting it together, but this is nice."

In "putting it together" the Panthers combined a strong hitting attack and improved pitching in outscoring the Purple Panthers 33-16 over the four game series.

"Everything really came together this weekend," said Panther centerfielder Mike Rooney. "Our hitting has been pretty good all season and this weekend we got great pitching."

Junior Eric Hillman and freshman Guy Taylor turned in complete game performances Saturday as the Panthers won by scores of 9-6 and 5-1.

In the opener, Hillman recorded 11 strikeouts in raising his record to 4-3.

Offensively, the Panthers were led by third baseman Stan Royer, designated hitter Dan Hargis and Rooney as the trio each notched two runs batted in.

In the nightcap, Taylor turned in the series' strongest pitching performance, scattering just six hits in raising his record to 3-1.

"He (Taylor) pitched the best game of the bunch," McDevitt said. "He kept the ball down and got ahead of the hitters and just did all the things a pitcher has to do to win."

Taylor got all the offensive support he would need in the first inning as the Panthers took advantage of three consecutive walks in jumping out to a 3-0 lead.

Eastern shortstop Tim Bogar (13) slides into second base while Northern Iowa second baseman Dave Smith tries to prevent the throw from going into centerfield. The Panthers swept a four-game weekend series from UNI to move their record to 9-3 in the AMCU-8's Gray Division and clinch a spot in the AMCU post-season tournament.

Taylor said the time was right for the pitching staff, which had entered the series allowing just under seven runs a contest, to turn in some strong performances.

"It's been frustrating this year," Taylor said. "We couldn't do any worse than we were doing, so I'm just glad we finally turned it around a bit."

On Sunday, the Panthers' strong pitching continued as junior Steve Readnour allowed just two runs over five innings in helping Eastern post a 9-5 victory.

With the win, Readnour raised his record to 2-3.

Offensively, the Panthers were led by Rooney who was 3-for-3 with four RBI. In doing so, the senior raised his team-leading total to 39 on the season.

In Sunday's nightcap, junior Mike DiBenedetto scattered seven hits, allowing just three earned runs in raising his record to 3-4.

Offensively, the Panthers took advantage of a nine-run second inning while sending 13 batters to the plate in building an 11-2 cushion.

The second inning was highlighted by shortstop Tim Bogar's inside-the-park home run.

Although pleased with the improved efforts of his pitching staff this weekend, McDevitt said more improvement will be needed between now and the start of the playoffs on May 8.

"We're still going to have to get some better pitching," McDevitt said. "As the competition gets better and better, we're going to find that we can't afford to make the little mistakes."

The Panthers now turn their attention to a Tuesday doubleheader with St. Louis University. Game time is set for 1 p.m. at Monier Field.

Maton qualifies for NCAA finals in 800-meters

For Jim Maton, the waiting is over.

The Eastern junior, also an All-American, qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Nationals at Baton Rouge, La. June 4-6 with a 1:47.9 clocking in the 800-meters at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa this weekend.

Maton finished third behind Oseln Barr of Jackson, Miss. (1:47.13) and Dievdonne Kwizera of the University of Chicago Track Club (1:47.23) while topping his own school record (1:49.7), which he held along with Ken Jacobi, who ran the identical time in 1971.

"It (the national meet) is something to look forward to," said Maton, who had his troubles during Saturday's race.

"He got out well," said Tom Akers, Eastern's assistant track coach. "But with about 200 meters to go he made his move and the guy ahead of him veered in front of him and

Carroll shines in spring scrimmage

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

The Eastern football team completed their 1987 spring practice drills Friday with the annual intersquad scrimmage at Charleston High School's Trojan Hill.

The white team defeated the blue squad 20-6, however, all three quarterbacks (Pat Carroll, Kurt Simon and Eric Arnold) played for both squads.

"We had an outstanding effort tonight," said Eastern head coach Bob Spoo. "This is the first time in 10 years that I've completed 20 days of spring practice. At Purdue, we would get in 16 or 17 and just call it quits."

However, fifth-year senior quarterback Pat Carroll did not call it quits as he led the passing trio with a 9-for-10 performance for 164 yards passing and a 39-yard touchdown toss to senior tight end Derick Wilhelms.

"I did what I wanted to do," said Carroll, a native of Dundee. "And that was to go out and have fun."

I moved the ball up and down the field and that's what they (the coaching staff) wanted."

"Pat Carroll did some fine things tonight," Spoo said.

Yet, Carroll also credited his teammates for his performance Friday.

"I can't take all the credit," Carroll said. "All around, everybody produced well. The receivers were great and the 'hogs' were tremendous." Carroll also rushed for 41 yards on two attempts, including a 33-yard bootleg in the first half.

Arnold was 8-for-15 on the night for 69 yards, while Simon, a transfer from the University of Hawaii, passed for 53 yards with seven completions on 14 attempts. Simon also threw the only interception of the contest.

"I was impressed with all the quarterbacks," said Spoo, who only featured twelve offensive plays (six rushing and six passing) because of San Jose State scouts who attended Friday's scrimmage.

The Panthers will face the Spartans in the season opener Sept. 5 in San Jose, Ca.

In the rushing department, senior running back Uasi Latu carried the ball nine times for 80 yards, while senior walk-on Mike Smothers rushed for 58 yards on 12 carries.

"He's as tough as nails," said Spoo of the 5-8, 160-pound Smothers, a Taylorville product. "He's the kind of guy who loves to play the game, and he plays it hard."

Freshman wideout John Metzger led all receivers with five catches for 75 yards. Wilhelms caught two passes for 72 yards and one touchdown.

Placekicker Rich Ehmke hit four of six field goals with his longest being a 41-yard boot. Ehmke's misses were from 49 and 52 yards.
